Barry Hits at Lies, Lives in Viet Nam Affair

By WLATER R. MEARS

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater invaded the Southwest today, accusing the Democrats of losing lives and telling lies about the guerrilla warfare in South Viet Nam.

"The day of reckoning for Viet Nam must not be delayed," the Republican presidential nominee told an applauding crowd of 8,000 at Tulsa's Assembly Center.

As he hit at President Johnson's foreign policy, Goldwater fans applauded and a man gonged a replica of the Liberty Bell standing beside the platform.

"Frankly," Goldwater said, "I'm a little sick and tired of the camouflage that this administration is hanging over this war."

And that, he said, is the only word for the situation in South Viet Nam.

As he spoke, chants of "LBJ all the way" rolled in from outside the hall. A band of Goldwater fans soon countered with "We want Barry" to drown out the Johnson partisans.

Both sides eventually quieted down. "All we ask is an administration that will level with the American people," Goldwater said.

"Every crisis this country

Youth Revival to Be Held at Columbus

This week-end, September 25 through September 27, the Columbus Baptist Church is holding a youth-led revival. This means that the youth of the community will be special guests but that everyone, young and old, is urged to attend.

A revival team from Ouachita Baptist College will be in charge of all activities. Jerry Hubbard will be the evangelist for the services and special music will be provided. Youth fellowships are planned for Friday and Saturday.

Services will begin at 7:30 each evening. The Sunday morning service starts at 11:00 with Sunday School preceding at 10:00.

Plan to attend services of the three-day meeting, and you will be richly blessed by the spirit of the young people as they labor together for God.

Porker Band to Play Here on October 2

Hope Band Director Richard Keyton has been notified that the famed University of Arkansas Marching Razorback Band will present a halftime show of precision marching at the Hope-Malvern football game here October 2.

The Band, 125 strong, will stop over on its way to the Texas Christian-Razorback game the following day in Fort Worth. The band arrives late Friday and leaves early Saturday.

"We're lucky to have them," Mr. Keyton said. "They are going out of their way to be here. And knowing Razorbacks Band of the past, it should be an exceptional performance."

Overnight accommodations are needed for members of the band. If you can house one or more and prepare breakfast for them, please contact Richard Keyton at Hope Public School.

Please include your name, address and telephone number and the number of students and the sex you can accommodate. You will be notified if your facilities are needed.

LBJ Promises Union to Cut Excise Taxes

By FRANK CORMIER

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson told a bell-ringing, cheering crowd of labor union members today that he will recommend a cut in excise taxes next year. And he hinted at other tax cuts if prosperity continues.

This was Johnson's first flat disclosure that he favors lower excises — taxes on the retail prices of such items as lipsticks, auto tires and telephone calls.

Johnson, returning to Convention Hall where he was nominated by last month's Democratic National Convention, addressed some 3,500 delegates to the 12th biennial convention of the United Steelworkers Union.

Minutes before his arrival the delegates enthusiastically endorsed his platform.

Talking of the "bitter issues," Johnson "fronted to associate the Republic with the 'voices of doom' and despair." Although he did not mention the GOP, the President said these voices have been using "the same worn-out lies against progressive legislation from Social Security through the war on poverty."

He said the public hears — but will not heed — "the same old arguments in the same old way, written, I imagine, by the same old man."

"Turning to tax policy, Johnson had this to say:

Strike Called Off in Viet Nam Trouble

By JOHN T. WHEELER

Saigon, South Viet Nam (AP) — The general strike in Saigon was called off today. Labor leaders claimed a "complete victory."

Communications were restored. Electric power and water came on Monday night. Petroleum plants, tobacco factories, most dock facilities, textile factories and municipal buses were still idle but were expected to be back to normal Wednesday.

Government sources said the strikers still out had been given the rest of today as a holiday.

American Ships Leave Tonkin, Still No Word

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—American destroyers were reported out of the Gulf of Tonkin today but what they hit there—if anything—remained a mystery.

Informed sources said the two vessels which fired on radar-spotted targets Friday have been pulled out of the Gulf between Red Chinese and North Vietnamese coastlines after finishing their patrol on schedule.

When another destroyer patrol will sail in was left indefinite, but government sources said U.S. vessels will continue to exercise the right to roam international waters. The Navy craft have been going into the Gulf periodically despite three incidents since Aug. 2.

The latest shooting occurred in the dark Friday when the two U.S. destroyers opened fire on what appeared to be menacing craft showing on their radar screens. Authorities said the radar definitely locked onto solid objects. According to the U.S. account, there was no return fire and the objects disappeared from the radar screens.

U.S. sources said investigation so far has produced no evidence of hits, such as debris or floating bodies. A Navy team has gone to the Far East to make an inquiry. It is not expected back until late next week.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Monday that the Americans fired at five ships, sinking three of them.

This seemed to come as a surprise to Washington officials, including President Johnson. He said he knew nothing about the Tass report and that newsmen had all the information the U.S. government has on this.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a Los Angeles news conference he would not speculate on the Russian claim.

He added that the United

Local Faubus Backers Plan Vote Drive

The campaign of Governor Faubus was brought to Hope and Hempstead County this morning at a breakfast meeting at the Diamond Cafe.

Attending locally were county office holders, members of the Democratic Central Committee, W. S. Atkins, chairman; Rep. Talbot Field, Jr., Judge Lyle Brown, Senator Olen Hendrix, Ray Turner, Faubus campaign manager in Hempstead County and Judge James Pilkinton who served as Master of Ceremonies for the meeting. Judge Brown gave the invocation.

Representing the Governor were J. Orville Cheney, Senator Clarence Bell and the Governor's son, Farrell.

After being introduced by Judge Pilkinton Cheney spoke to the group, urging them to work for the party, to get the people to buy a poll tax and to get out the vote in the coming general election.

Although she was in the city, Mrs. Faubus did not attend the meeting.

Attacks Lawmaker

COTTER, Ark. (AP) — Jerry Hinshaw of Springdale, Republican congressional candidate, said Saturday that Rep. James W. Trimble, D-Ark., was an economic hypocrite.

Hinshaw said his 3rd District opponent supported inflationary measures which have weakened the value of the dollar. He also attacked Trimble for his support of foreign aid and for his support of the tax cut which Hinshaw said actually cost Americans money.

has ever faced we've faced as a united people," he said, "but we don't know what we face."

Goldwater jibed at Johnson's "non-political" trips. "I'm on a political trip and the Republican party's paying for it," he said. "He's on a political trip and you're paying for it."

He urged the crowd to ask Johnson when he comes to Oklahoma Friday that he say "what goes on in South Viet Nam." Goldwater added that despite his vaunted communications system, Johnson apparently is waiting for "a nairmail letter" to find out what is going on in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The Republican presidential nominee described the fighting in South Viet Nam as "a conflict without end and without apparent purpose."

"The situation in Viet Nam seems to have deteriorated from confusion to chaos in the past 24 hours," Goldwater said, in a speech prepared for the first stop of a two-day campaign swing through the Southwest.

He added: "Reports of collapse and crisis along the fighting front, in the government, in the cities and in the villages have poured in."

Goldwater began his campaign swing on his 30th wedding anniversary. The trip will take the Arizona Senator and his wife through Texas and New Mexico, then back through the Midwest to New England, winding up Saturday in Michigan.

He hit the campaign trail again after taking a day off Sunday and spending most of Monday taping a television show in Gettysburg, Pa., with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. It will be shown tonight on a nationwide hookup.

Mrs. Goldwater stayed behind Monday night when the senator flew down to Charlotte, N.C., for his third stop in that state within a week.

More than 12,000 cheered and applauded in the Charlotte Coliseum as Goldwater challenged President Johnson to a television debate.

"I challenge my opponent, the interim President Lyndon Baines Johnson, to face the issues," he said. "I dare him to face me before the world. I ask of him — debate."

The prepared text had said, "I demand of him — debate." Goldwater changed "demand" to "ask" in delivering the speech. There was no explanation for the change.

Last Jan. 31, Goldwater said that if he were President he would not debate an opponent on television. He said that a President might make a slip in a television debate that could be costly to U.S. security.

So far, President Johnson has sidestepped the question of any debate with Goldwater on nationwide television.

In his Tulsa remarks, Goldwater challenged the administration to provide full information to the American people about the situation in South Viet Nam.

government announced striking workers fired by a leading textile plant would be reinstated. The general strike of 20,000 workers Monday started in support of them but produced other, more sweeping demands.

Government negotiators apparently held the line against a labor demand for repeal of a state of emergency regulation barring strikes. Instead, the government was reported to sign a decree banning lockouts. It also offered a decree prohibiting employers from firing workers during the state of emergency.

Some labor leaders conceded the Communist Viet Cong apparently was seeking to manipulate the strikers. A number of unidentified persons not connected with the labor leaders urged strikers on to demonstrate Monday, and some called for a charge on the premier's office building. Several thousand strikers had camped in front of the building as rain poured down.

Mobs have run wild in several cities in South Viet Nam during the past few days.

There still was fear that Khan's shaky government would collapse.

The mountain town of Ban Me Thuot was reported calm in the wake of a small-scale insurrection by mountain tribesmen which left 17 lowland Vietnamese officers and soldiers dead.

The tribesmen, trained and armed by the U.S. Army Special Forces in camps outside Ban Me Thuot, overpowered their American advisers Sunday, butchering lowland Vietnamese with shot and seized the Ban Me Thuot radio station. They demanded autonomy for a new tribal area.

Tension is heightened by the possibility that Communist North Viet Nam had for the first time sent full battalions into the south to help the Viet Cong guerrillas.

Khan's government claimed its forces had ambushed two enemy battalions just south of the demilitarized zone Sunday, killing 64 men. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, told newsmen it was possible the two battalions were regular North Vietnamese units. He said this was being investigated.

engaged in "visiting all over this country," he intends to be just about as nonpartisan as a fellow can be and still run for the nation's highest office.

Topping this off, the President greeted a large aggregation of representatives of fraternal organizations by telling them they were visiting their White House and that the office he holds was "the office of all the people."

"I do not know your politics," he said. "I do not care about your partisanship. I do know — and I do care — about your leadership."

Then he proceeded to sound a campaign theme: It was that the country is "more prosperous than ever before," is "better prepared than ever before," and is "more determined to preserve peace than ever before."

Admitting a band of surprised tourists at a White House gate, Johnson led them and reporters for four laps around the White House back lawn. As he progressed, he answered newsmen's questions.

He didn't think, he said, that when he held news conferences that he was making "a Democratic appearance." The Federal Communications Commission reportedly can't agree on whether televised versions of such conferences requires broadcasters to offer equal time to any Johnson opponent.

"I don't consider reviewing a hurricane as a political thing," he said. "It could help you or hurt you." This was in reference to this recent visit to hurricane-devastated areas of Florida and Georgia which some Republicans suggested was more political than presidential.

He went on to say that he will continue to be in and out of the White House and his duties there will have "first priority."

"I will be president first, but we will be out campaigning when the opportunity permits, to the extent it permits," he said.

Mentioning a forthcoming fund-raising speech in Cleveland, Ohio, and a series of speeches in New England as political, Johnson said the Democratic party would pay his expenses on them. But on other occasions he said the president had to do "just like I am doing now" and that wasn't political.

Miller Raps Smears by Democrats

By ROBERT T. GRAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller said today he is the target of "sleazy, unsubstantiated smears" and charged that the Johnson administration apparently had given tax and other records to "favored columnists and the Democratic National Committee."

But, said the Republican vice presidential candidate, "combined they cannot come up with any evidence which reflects on my integrity and character."

He volunteered to testify if a full-scale investigation is opened into alleged irregularities in the House of Representatives. Such an investigation does not appear likely at this point.

Miller said the Johnson administration apparently "has placed at the disposal of certain favored columnists and the Democratic National Committee all of the facilities and records of the Internal Revenue Bureau, the Department of the Army and other agencies."

As for allegations against himself, Miller said he would devote no further campaign time to answering them.

He said his responsibilities in the campaign were to discuss the principal issues facing the nation — "including the questions of Lyndon Johnson making a massive personal fortune during his years in Congress in an industry wholly controlled by the federal government (and) the obvious coverup and white-

Biggest Plane Hits Trouble 1st Time Up

By CHARLES MAHER

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The nation's biggest bomber ran into trouble its first time up, but trouble is nothing new to the XB70, a breed of plane regarded by some as an absolute must and by others as an obsolete bust.

Off the drawing boards the better part of a decade, the 185-foot-long monster finally got off the ground Monday, and:

—First off, developed either instrument or mechanical trouble and went through most of its 65-minute maiden flight with one of its six engines dead.

—Developed landing gear trouble, and, as a precaution, kept its wheels and its speed down the rest of the flight.

—Landed with a fiery splash, burning two tires that apparently were held rigid by a locked brake.

The Air Force brushed aside these annoyances, expressed satisfaction with the flight, and said it expects the triangular-winged craft to carry on as a research vehicle — a role somewhat less dramatic than the one in which the XB70 was originally cast.

The XB70, which has a slender fuselage and looks like a flying serpent, was designed to go as fast as 2,000 m.p.h. and as high as 80,000 feet.

Monday it was expected to reach 700 or 800 m.p.h. and about 35,000 feet, but the malfunctions held the speed to about 375 m.p.h. and the altitude to 16,000 feet.

Most of the trip will be concentrated in the West and will include four days in California, which Miller has termed "a strategic battleground" for the GOP in the election.

States "is not going to be pushed out of the Gulf of Tonkin." He said the United States will insist that the Communists of North Viet Nam and China realize that the gulf is an international body of water — not a "Communist lake."

There was speculation that the Russians might be putting out the Tass story in an effort to prod more information out of the U.S. government. Another theory was that Soviets got this data from North Viet Nam — though neither Hanoi nor Peking has put it out.

With the latest Tonkin Gulf incident now simmering down, State Department officials seem more concerned about the effort to promote government stability in Saigon which will allow effective prosecution of the war against the Viet Cong guerrillas.

A general strike of some 20,000 workers has crippled communications and public utilities in the South Vietnamese capital. Demonstrators milled about Premier Nguyen Khanh's office Monday during negotiations between union leaders and the labor minister.

Washington authorities said that while they do not want to make any flat predictions "at this distance," they do not believe the latest Saigon unrest is leading to a general breakdown there.

If there is a general collapse in South Viet Nam, U.S. strategists would be faced with some hard choices about what to do with the massive U.S. program to help the Saigon government stamp out Red insurgents.

One alternative would be withdrawal from the Southeast Asian country. But the United States is deeply committed and Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor has said a U.S. pullout would turn over much of free Asia to the Communists, forcing the United States back to its Honolulu defense line.

Washington's tactic thus is still to back whoever it sees as the best leadership in Saigon.

The Air Force brushed aside these annoyances, expressed satisfaction with the flight, and said it expects the triangular-winged craft to carry on as a research vehicle — a role somewhat less dramatic than the one in which the XB70 was originally cast.

came about 14 hours before the scheduled 6 a.m. strike deadline and ended the second major threat of a virtually nationwide rail tieup since April.

"We have reached an agreement on four of the major issues involved and feel certain we will be able to complete the agreement very soon," said Michael Fox, spokesman for six shop craft unions.

The unions had called the strike against most of the nation's railroads, except the Pennsylvania and Long Island railroads, the Southern Railway System and the Florida East Coast.

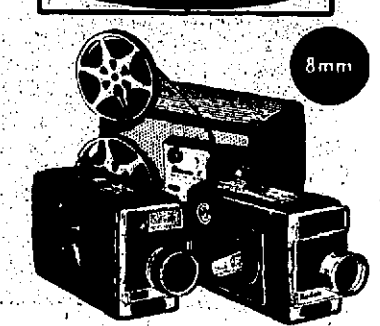

Francis A. O'Neill, member of the National Mediation Board, said talks were to resume today "to try to wrap up the balance of this dispute."

The sole issue involved in the negotiations is job security, a problem that has increasingly aggravated rail labor relations since railroad modernization began wiping out thousands of jobs over the past 15 years.

No details of the tentative agreement were announced.

Verdict Is Better Design and Sailing

By SID MOODY
Associated Press Writer
NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — They held a post-mortem on the drowned America's Cup hopes of Sovereign.

The verdict, with no one dissenting — the better designed, equipped and sailed boat won. Constellation was outstanding in outclassing the challenger from the Royal Thames Yacht Club in four straight races and never more so than in Monday's final race which she won by almost two miles or 15 minutes, 40 seconds over Rhode Island Sound.

It was a bitter defeat for all hands of the British entourage and Tony Boyden, who paid $300,000 to make Sovereign the finest challenger Britain could produce for the Cup that America has held without interruption for 113 years.

This was the 19th successful challenge in which the U.S. has won 60 of the 66 races held. "We obviously were beaten because we weren't good enough in every facet—rigging, spars and sailing to some extent," said Boyden.

He would challenge again, Boyden said, only if he could be assured "if designers in Britain can come forward with designs we know are good enough to catch the Americans."

The prospect, he said was not encouraging.

3 Players Make a Hole in One

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A hole-in-one — a golfing rarity — was accomplished Monday by three players at the Oak Hill Country Club.

Joseph Scanlon of Rochester, a retired tire dealer who is in his 70s, scored his ace on the 132-yard 4th hole of the club's West course, using No. 6 iron.

Carl Jones, a 52-year-old ice cream manufacturer from Rochester, put in a No. 4 iron shot on the East Course's 161-yard 11th hole.

J. P. Scullin, 40, a dentist from Oswego, bagged a hole-in-one with a No. 7 iron on the 120-yard 15th hole of the East course.

Hanging Out Pro Football Grid Wash

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the pro football wash — and didn't the Pittsburgh Steelers put Y. A. Tittle through the wringer.

John Baker, a 270-pounder, put Tittle in a daze and the New York Giants in a tizzy with a bone jarring tackle that knocked the veteran quarterback out of Sunday's game.

The injury, diagnosed as severely bruised cartilages around three ribs, left Tittle as doubtful at best for Friday night's game with the Washington Redskins. If Y.A. can't go, Gary Wood, a rookie, will handle the signal calling.

It would be a tough spot for a 21-year-old from Cornell with the Giants 0-2 and desperately needing a win to stay alive in the National League's Eastern Division race.

If that fellow who kept scoring touchdowns for San Francisco in its upset victory over Philadelphia looked familiar to Eagle Coach Joe Kuharich, there was a good reason.

Mike Lind played for Kuharich for three years at Notre Dame. At least he was on the Irish roster. Injuries limited him to five games in the three seasons, so that Kuharich never did see much of him.

Lind made up for it Sunday, scoring three times, and Kuharich would just as soon not see any more of him.

One man's meat and potatoes is leftover hash for another. After the Los Angeles Rams had blown a fourth-quarter lead and had to settle for a tie with the Detroit Lions, Ram Coach Harland Sware was philosophical.

"A tie in this league is like a win," said Sware.

Not so for Lion Coach George Wilson. "We lost because we didn't block and tackle," the disappointed Wilson said.

Boston Patriot Coach Mike Holovak was talking to reporters after his club lost the American League title to San Diego by 51-10 last January.

"For the life of me," Holovak said, "I can't believe that's the difference between the two teams."

The Pats proved he was right coming back to knock off the Chargers 33-28 Sunday.

Bristlecone Pines Oldest Living Thing

BISHOP, Calif. (AP) — High on the barren upper slopes of the White Mountains of central California is a graveyard of twisted things that refuse to die.

They are bristlecone pines, some more than 4,000 years old and believed to be the oldest living thing on earth.

Some have only one branch left with a few needles. The older ones have lost all but a narrow strip of bark and their bare trunks have been polished by centuries of wind and dust and sun.

They look like drift wood, but somehow they still live, with their gnarled roots sucking sustenance from soil too poor and dry for all other forms of life.

More than 100 of these botanical freaks have lived through 40 centuries and experts believe they're good for another millennium or two.

In an attempt to find out just how long the bristlecone pine can live in its natural environment, the U.S. Forest Service has set aside 28,000 acres in the White Mountains 20 miles east of here between the 9,000- and 11,000-foot levels, where the annual rainfall seldom exceeds 12 inches.

Unlike the towering 3,500-year-old sequoia, the starved bristlecone seldom reaches 30 feet in height.

It gets its name from its cone, much like other pine cones except for a bristle that extends from each section of the wafled

Catholics to Give Bishops More Power

By BENNET M. BOLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted sweeping approval today of its first measures defining a concept that bishops share power with the Pope over the entire Church.

The prelates in St. Peter's Basilica cast the first 4 of 40 ballots on a document defining concept of shared papal-episcopal authority — known as collegiality. It is contained in a chapter of the schema known as "De Ecclesia," on the nature of the Church.

By a vote of 2,012 to 191, with two votes null, the council agreed that bishops make up a kind of college or body with the Pope.

They also agreed — by 2,166 to 10 with one null vote — that the bishops are the successors of the apostles and the Pope is the successor of St. Peter.

Details and voting results on the other two measures are to be announced Tuesday, after tabulation is complete.

The first two measures approved today are the foundation idea is based. It was emphasized to the bishops before the voting that the concept does not mean any lessening of papal supremacy.

Pope Paul VI himself stressed this when he opened the current third council session a week ago today. He gave the bishops a mandate to define how they participate with him in governing the Roman Catholic Church.

The council is debating another measure — on pastoral duties of bishops — which is written on the assumption that collegiality has been put into application.

The votes on collegiality were necessary because "De

U.S. Girls Seek British Golfing Title

By THOMAS A. REEDY
SANDWICH, England (AP) — Three American Curtis Cup stars swept into the second round of the British Women's Amateur Golf Championship with easy triumphs on the windswept, 6,017-yard, par 73 Prince's Course today.

The Americans led the charge of 90 top women players from 11 countries competing for the title, held by Brigitte Varangot of France.

Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La., polished off England's Elizabeth Collis, 7, and 6.

Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., had an equally easy time, defeating Maria Luisa Martinez of Mexico City 7 and 5.

Seventeen-year-old Peggy Conley, of Spokane, Wash., the baby star of the American cup victory over Britain, turned in a tidy 4 and 3 win over Mrs. R. Denison Pender of England.

Three other American Curtis Cuppers—Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, Colo., Phyllis Ann Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., and Nancy Roth of Hollywood, Fla., went into the second round with byes.

The first- and second-round matches today reduced the field of 32. Sixteen 18-hole matches are scheduled for Wednesday. The only 36-hole match will be the final, to be played Friday and that could easily be an all-American affair.

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SANDWICH, England (AP) — Six American girls set out today in quest of the British Women's Amateur Golf Championship and girls from a half-dozen other countries chased after them.

The American contingent in a field of 90 constituted the target for the 1964 title and the British women themselves recognized that they had to defeat the Americans rather than the French, the Australians, Irish, Canadians, the Mexicans and all the others in 12-nation field.

The three-day match play championship over the Prince's course opened in ideal weather.

Top favorite was Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, Colo., who at 29 is shooting for the first American double in history. She won the American crown and is favored to capture the British Championship.

The American girls, as a group are favorites.

Most of them were bracketed in such a manner that they would not face a serious challenge before Wednesday.

The first American to tee off today was Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La., against Elizabeth Collis of England.

Trailing after her and in varying degrees as favorites were Phyllis Ann Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla.; 17-year-old Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash.; Nancy Roth of Hollywood, Fla., and Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis.

Will Try for Additional Industry

LITTLE ROCK (P) — Winthrop Rockefeller, Republican candidate for governor, said Sunday that if he is elected he will visit major U.S. industrial centers and try to bring more industry to Arkansas.

He proposed to do this by meeting with industrialists.

Rockefeller also promised to announce soon details of a plan for the "overall development of the tourist industry in Arkansas."

He said charges that he has been taking all the credit for Arkansas' industrial progress, claiming he had founded the AIDC and bailed it out of financial woes with his own money, were all "fabrications."

The Republican who hopes to top Gov. Orval E. Faubus in his sixth term bid said he had received many letters from persons who said they were switching their votes to Rockefeller because Faubus endorsed the Johnson-Humphrey ticket.

Rockefeller said these persons indicate that "his espousing the liberal cause is something they won't stand still for."

He also said if he was elected he planned to take the Welfare Department from politics and to establish a subsistence level for persons on public assistance and then have the state "make the sacrifices to see that these people at least have that."

Rockefeller charged Saturday that Faubus had implied that state aid to some 76,000 Arkansians would stop if Faubus is not re-elected.

Rockefeller said Faubus had made the implication in letters mailed to recipient of state aid.

Rockefeller made the accusation during a Stuttgart stop with Travis Beeson of Camden, the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

Counterfeit Trial for 3 at Abilene

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Three defendants in a counterfeiting case went on trial in federal court Monday, and the bond of a fourth man charged with them was ordered forfeited after he failed to appear.

Going to trial were Donald R. Plaskett of Little Rock, Ark., and George Douglas Graves and Lloyd B. Moore, both of Abilene.

Graves and Moore are charged with conspiracy and possession of counterfeit money, while Plaskett faces only a conspiracy count.

The fourth man, Billy Doyle, Prince of Abilene, was arrested after telephoning city police and surrendering to a deputy U.S. marshal.

U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster ordered Prince's $2,500 personal appearance bond forfeited and severed his case from that of the other three.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Conrad Florence called seven witnesses, most of them federal officers, in an effort to link Plaskett to a one- and a half-inch stack of phony $20 bills introduced as evidence.

Officers said the bills were in a package picked up last December at the Little Rock Post Office general delivery window by Plaskett.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — When Constellation's victorious crew swapped shirts with Sovereign's sailors following the fourth straight America's Cup victory Monday, Buddy Bombard, the agile but diminutive boss of Constellation's foredeck, had a problem.

No one could find a sweater small enough to fit Buddy and he finally had to swap with one of the women in Sovereign's entourage.

Charged for Illegal Use of the Mail

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—James Whitaker, 39, formerly of Lake Village, has been indicted for illegal use of the mails in connection with homemade fishing flies, aprons and baby bibs, a U.S. District Court attorney said here Monday.

Attorney Robert D. Smith said Whitaker is accused of collecting up to $6 each in advance fees from persons throughout the country.

Smith said Whitaker represented in magazine and newspaper advertisements and by direct mail that these persons would be employees of his companies and would be paid by the dozen for their piecework.

After sending in advance fees, Smith said, applicants were told they would have to obtain their own orders before Whitaker would send them the materials.

Postal inspectors said Whitaker operated at Lake Village from Sept. 4, 1963 to April 30, 1964, before moving to Long Beach, Miss.

Smith said the indictment, returned Sept. 2 at Little Rock, said Whitaker conducted his activities under the names of Wholesale Fly Manufacturing Co., Ready Made Fly Co.; Baby Bib Manufacturing Co. and Jiffy Manufacturing Co.

He said Whitaker was released on $1,500 bond after his arrest.

Assassination Report Again Delayed

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission's report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will be unfolded to the world next weekend.

The commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, which has been probing the Dallas tragedy of last Nov. 22, will submit its findings to President Johnson on Thursday, the White House announced.

Press secretary George Reedy said the report — a volume of a quarter of a million words, plus 20 or more additional volumes of testimony and evidence — will be made public over the weekend. He did not specify the day or hour.

Reedy said he did not know who would deliver the report, but commission sources said they expect Warren and his six colleagues to visit the White House personally late Thursday morning.

The six other members who have been working with Warren for the past fortnight to complete the 10-month inquiry, are: Allen W. Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency; John J. McCloy, lawyer, banker and former high commissioner for Germany; Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.; and Reps. Hale Boggs, D-La., and Gerald Ford, R-Mich.

They have worked for utmost secrecy and under heavy security precautions, but are understood to have found no substantial evidence to refute the original conclusions of Dallas authorities and the Federal Bureau of Investigation — that: Lee Harvey Oswald, 24-year-old Marxist, marksman and unstable ex-Marine, planned the slaying alone and executed it from a sniper's perch in the Texas School Book Depository overlooking the presidential motorcade.

And that Jack Ruby, the Dallas night club owner convicted of murdering Oswald two days later, was not linked to any plot or conspiracy of the left or right.

Yankees Seem Set for Drive After Pennant

CLEVELAND (AP) — The American League-leading New York Yankees, so set for their final road trip, that the most pressing problem is deciding which outfield position is closer to the bench, tackle the Cleveland Indians tonight in the first of a pair of two-night double-headers.

The Yankees, leading Baltimore by one game and two games on Chicago with only a handful remaining, have their pitching rotation all set for the entire seven-game road trip and have had their lone problem solved by a couple of architects.

The one problem is Mickey Mantle, the slugging outfielder with the slipping underpinnings who has volunteered to play the outfield position "which is closest to the bench. Just a matter of having less running back and forth."

The Yankees didn't even have to buy a ruler. The ballpark at Cleveland and Washington — the next stop — are symmetrical, so Mantle was able to have his choice of positions. He chose left field.

Grid Player Believes Like Black Muslim

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pro football star Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns says he is not a member of the Black Muslims but supports the views of the Negro organization.

"Some people may not like what I have to say," the Negro fullback said Monday in explaining some statements he made on racial discrimination in this week's edition of Look Magazine.

"That doesn't matter to me," he went on. "The things had to be said. As far as football goes, it won't make any difference. If I can produce, it won't matter. And if I can't, then it doesn't matter either."

A spokesman for the National Football League club declined comment on the article, which is from a book authored by Brown entitled, "Off My Chest."

Among the things Brown, a $50,000-a-year player now in his eighth season with Cleveland, touched on:

—White racial attitudes — "I protest prejudice, but I am a prejudiced man. The white man has forced me to be prejudiced against him."

—Ex-coach Paul Brown — "Although I was billed as Paul's star performer, I had no relationship with him. I wanted to, but this aloofness put him beyond approach. . . my six years under Paul Brown were as much as I could stomach."

On the racial issue, Brown wrote:

"The first thing the white man must understand is the depth of our protest. Does he realize that the Black Muslim's basic attitude toward whites is shared by almost 98 per cent of the Negro population?"

The Black Muslim sect is a Negro group that advocates separation of the races and preaches a theory of Negro supremacy.

"I am not one of the Muslims," Brown said. "Yet I'm all for them because we need every possible element going for us. The more commotion, the better. Do I sound bitter? I am not in the least bitter. You don't have to be bitter to fight. If people throw rocks at your home, you don't have to be bitter to come out ready for action."

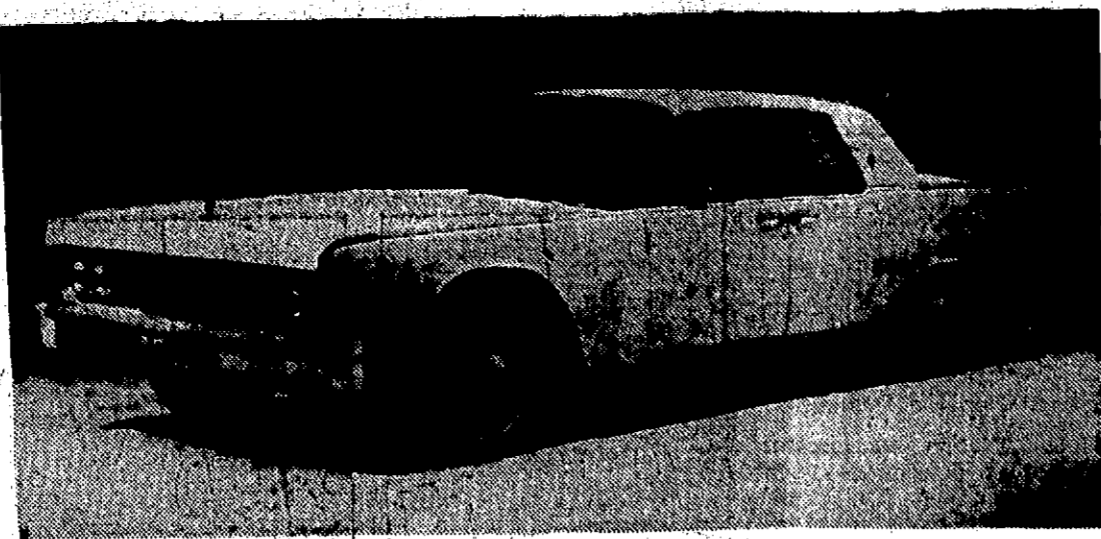

tonight in the first two-nighter will be Mel Stottlemyre, who has compiled a 7-2 record in the five weeks he has been with the club, and ace left-hander Whitey Ford, 15-6. The Indians' will counter with Dick Donovan, 7-8, and Sonny Siebert, 7-6.

Meanwhile, the Orioles and White Sox, both in a precarious position, will be at Detroit and Los Angeles, respectively. The Orioles will send Milt Pappas, 15-5, against the Tigers' Hank Aguirre, 5-10, while the White Sox will go with rookie Bruce Howard, 0-0, against the Angels' Fred Newman, 12-9.

"We're not counting on them to lose," said Yankee Manager Yogi Berra. "We have to win on the field. We must keep the edge in the loss column."

In the loss column, the Yankees have a formidable edge — three over the Orioles and four over the White Sox. The Yankees have 14 games remaining, the pursuers 10 each.

Besides the advantage in the loss column, the Yankees apparently have another big plus in momentum, having won five straight, seven of eight and 20 of their last 27 in the pennant push.

Bobcats Get Real Test at Smackover

The Game of the Week this week in Div. 4AA football will find the Hope Bobcats, defending champions, opening their defense at Smackover against the Buckaroos. Other Conference action will send Warren to Fairview on Thursday night, and Crossett at Magnolia.

Non-league action calls for Arkadelphia at Prescott; Forde at Camden; and Catholic Hi at Malvern.

The Malvern Leopards handed the Crossett Eagles their first loss (14-7) and continue to lead the league with a 2-0 mark. Smackover downed Fairview (13-7) and took over the No. 2 spot. Non-league game results: Warren 20 Dumas 7; Benton 41 Camden 6; Nashville 33 Arkadelphia 0; Hope 19 DeQueen 14; Magnolia 20 Prescott 6.

Warren, moving into 4AA for their first season, plays their initial conference game with Fairview this week.

Four out of the nine member teams now have suffered one conference loss. One of the remaining five has a tie.

Malvern, Hope and Smackover continue to be the favorites for the title at this early stage of the season.

In the individual scoring race Malvern's Phil Clem and Hope's Jerry Burnett share the lead with 25 points each, followed closely by D. McMurry of Warren with 24. D. Young of Crossett has 18.

B. Meadows of Crossett leads the extra point makers with 5. The Standings: (4AA games only)

Broyles Cries Over Porker Mistakes

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas football Coach Frank Broyles said Monday that the Razorbacks will probably watch a film of the Oklahoma State football game over and over, "since they made so many mistakes."

The Razorbacks usually see a movie of the previous game only once.

Broyles said any mistakes against Tulsa, next week's opponent, could be disastrous since the Hurricane is an air-minded team which can strike fast.

He pointed out that in last year's Arkansas victory over Tulsa, the Oklahomaans "called only 6 running plays to 52 pass or draw plays."

Broyles commended noseman Jim Johnson for his work against the Cowboys in the 14-10 Arkansas triumph Saturday night.

He said Billy Gray, who directed the two Arkansas scoring drives, will be No. 1 quarterback until Fred Marshall gets over a deep-seated bruise high on his right shoulder. Marshall was unable to complete a pass against OSU.

First string linemen Jerry Welch and Mike Bender missed the workout Monday. They were recovering from game bruises.

Home Stealing Proves Way to Beat the Phils

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

It's taken 150 games but the National League-leading Philadelphia Phillies finally have revealed a weakness.

All the opposition has to do is get a man to third base. Then it's all downhill.

Cincinnati's Chico Ruiz reached third in the sixth inning Monday night and promptly became the second player in three games to beat the Phillies by stealing home.

Ruiz' theft and John Tsitouris' six-hit pitching gave the Reds a 1-0 victory and pulled second-place Cincinnati to within 5½ games of the Phillies, who were beaten by the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3 Saturday night when Willie Davis stole home in the 16th inning.

In the only other game scheduled Monday, Rusty Staub drove in two runs and Ken Johnson pitched a four-hitter as the Houston Colts defeated San Francisco 3-1 for their fifth straight victory — and the third under new Manager Luman Harris.

The loss left the fourth-place Giants seven games back of the Phillies with only a dozen games remaining. The Phillies' tie with the Reds again tonight, seeking to move closer to their first pennant since 1950 sending Chris Short, 17-7 against Jim O'Toole, 15-7.

The American League pennant race resumes this afternoon when second-place Baltimore meets Detroit. The Orioles, one game behind the front-running New York Yankees, will start Milt Pappas, 15-5, against the Tigers' Hank Aguirre, 5-10.

The Yankees are scheduled for a two-nighter at Cleveland while third-place Chicago, trailing by two games, is at Los Angeles for a night game.

Tsitouris, who brought his record to 8-11 with his first shutout of the season, was locked in a scoreless duel with Art Mahaffey, 12-9, until Ruiz darted home.

Chico led off the sixth with a single, moved to third on a single by Vada Pinson and, with Mahaffey pitching to Frank Robinson, suddenly broke for the plate. Mahaffey's throw was wide of the plate and skipped by catcher Clay Dalrymple.

Ruiz, however, was officially credited with his seventh steal of the season on a play that admittedly surprised everyone involved.

Johnson, now 11-16, was tagged for a homer by rookie Jim Hart in the fourth inning, then shackled the Giants on one hit the rest of the way.

Staub tied the score in the Association and beat the pros 63-56 Monday night.

Foes Feel Texas Is the Nation's Best

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas can't make up his mind whether his 1964 team is as good as his 1963 national champions.

He says he's going to have to investigate further, like, say a game with Texas Tech.

But Texas Tech coaches, in the spirit of helpfulness, are ready to give him their opinion so he can decide now and get out from under the pressure.

Couch J. T. King of Tech says there's no question but that Texas is No. 1 in the nation.

Scout Bert Huffman of Tech is even more helpful. "Texas looks 10 points better than last year's national champions," he ventured.

Royal entered into the spirit of the thing and said Texas Tech is particularly dangerous. "They think they can beat anyone in the conference if they get the breaks," Royal said in a most complimentary way.

But, getting back to the question of condition for the big one — the opening Southwest Conference game Saturday night at Lubbock — both coaches found their squads in good shape, with no new injuries from last week's opening games.

Tech doesn't expect defensive tackle John Carroll to be back but King found that his replacement, sophomore Bill Adams, did a very fine job against Mississippi State.

Rice had tailback Paul Piper practicing with his broken hand wrapped in tape and gauze and Coach Jess Neely thought he would be able to play against Louisiana State Saturday night. "I think he'll be able to do everything except catch the ball," said Neely.

The Rice coach said his team looked better than usual.

Baylor got down to tough work as the Bears prepared to open the season against Washington at Seattle. Pass protection and defense were stressed, indicating Baylor plans to throw plenty against Washington, meanwhile preparing for a counter-attack.

Southern Methodist was cheered when quarterback Danny Thomas and halfback Jim Taylor reported for practice in full gear Monday. Both were hurt in the game with Florida but they are expected to be ready to play again against Ohio State at Columbus Saturday.

Texas Christian, however, was somewhat gloomy when Kent Nix, alternate quarterback, was declared out of the game Saturday night with Florida State.

Colts' half of the fourth when he homered off Bob Bolin. Houston scored the tie-breaking run in the fifth on a single by Jim Wynn, a sacrifice and John Bateman's double.

The final Col run scored in the eighth on a walk, Joe Morgan's single and a sacrifice fly by Staub.

Arkansas Player Signed by Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Edward McClelland of Prairie Grove, Ark., has been signed to a minor league contract by the St. Louis Cardinals, the National League baseball club announced Monday.

McClelland, 18, has been assigned to Rock Hill, S.C.

Lions Players Ignore Curfew

DETROIT (AP) — William Clay Ford, owner of the Detroit Lions, said Monday night "more than one" of his National Football League players had been fined for violating an 11 p.m. curfew last Friday before Saturday's game against Los Angeles.

Ford said the fines ranged up to $100 "and they're going to stick."

Asked if a report were true that "several, meaning three or more" had been fined, Ford replied: "Let's just say more than one."

The Lions and Rams tied 17-17 Saturday.

Auerbach Has Complete Charge

BOSTON (AP) — Lou Pliet once refused to invest in the Boston Celtics unless Red Auerbach was hired as coach. Now he's handed the fiery coach the "full authority" as vice president and general manager.

Auerbach, who was 47 Sunday, was put in "complete charge" Monday of the team he's directed to six straight National Basketball Association crowns and seven in eight years.

The most successful coach the pro game has ever known will begin his 19th campaign on the bench as well.

Pliet was elected president of the team, succeeding the late Walter Brown, by the board of directors Monday. However, the Providence, R.I., resident and Celtics' part-owner said that the logical development of things probably will see Auerbach holding the office of president in several years.

Nix hurt a knee against Kansas last week.

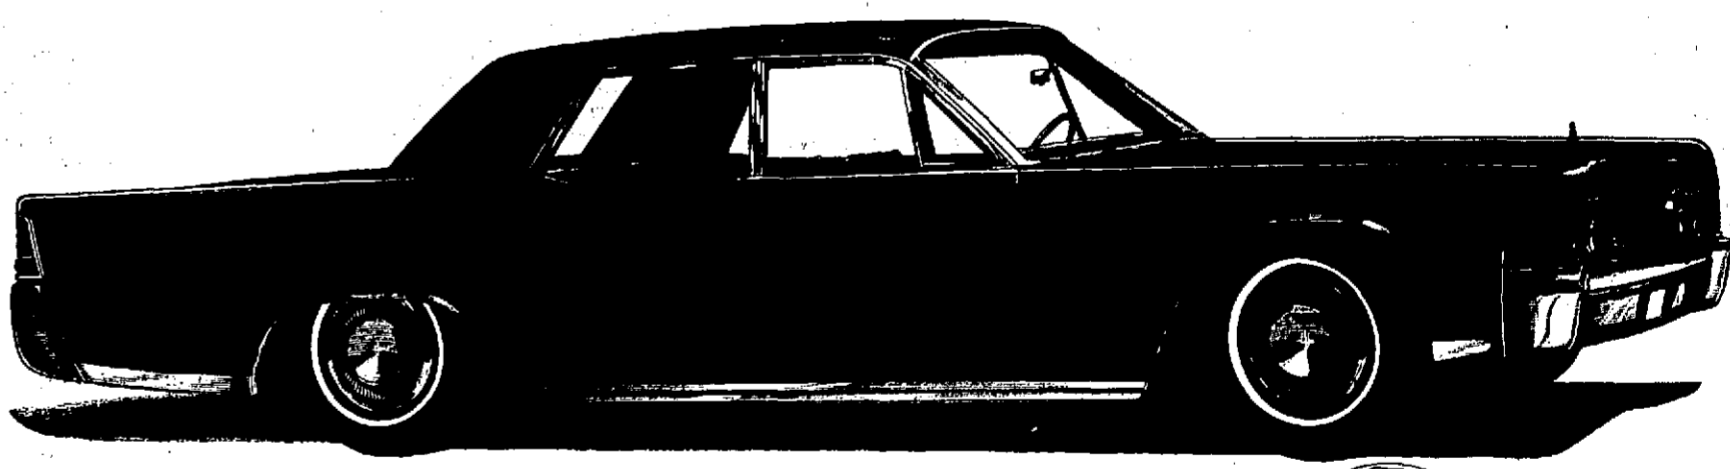

Sophomore Jerry Cannaday will replace Nix.

Arkansas had guard Jerry Welch and tackle Mike Bender on the injury list but it's only bruises and they probably will play against Tulsa at Fayetteville Saturday.

Coach Frank Broyles said the boys made so many mistakes against Oklahoma State last week he was going to wear out the film of the game showing it to them.

Coach Hank Foldberg of Texas A&M promised some new stuff against Houston Saturday since he failed to win against Louisiana State. The Aggies worked on it Monday.

There were no injuries of importance in the Aggie camp.

Errors Give San Diego the Playoff

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — San Diego zipped across five first-inning runs, then coasted to a 11-5 victory over Arkansas Monday night to give the Padres the Pacific Coast League baseball title.

The game was the seventh in the series, and the Western Division winners took the league championship with triumphs in the second, third, fifth and last games.

Two Arkansas errors in the first inning helped the Padres. Miles McWilliams singled in two runs and the rest came on an error, a fielder's choice and a sacrifice fly.

Tim Harkness homered in the third for the Padres, and Hal Smith crossed home in the fourth on a fielder's choice.

In the sixth a single and two more sacrifice flies brought in three runs for the winners, and the last Padre run came on a double by Ken Walters and another error, Arkansas' third.

Pat Corrales singled in Arkansas' first run, a fielder's choice let in another, and Norm Gigon got two RBIs on a fifth inning double. Corrales' homer in the ninth finished the Travelers' scoring for the year.

Thought For The Day

It is our relation to circumstances that determines their influence over us. The same wind that carries one vessel into port may blow another off shore. —Bovee said it.

Calendar of Events

Revival services are in progress at the Mt. Hebron Baptist Church. Rev. A. L. Evans, pastor of the church is doing the preaching. The public is invited to attend.

Prof. H. G. Boggs, sensational blind pianist and gospel singer of Port Clinton, will appear in concert at the Union Baptist Church, Fulton, October 4th, at 3:00 p.m.
This program is being sponsored by the Church School. Mrs. E. L. Nash, Superintendent.

Federated Club Meets

The Cottillon Club met at the home of Mrs. Marie Cooper, September 19. The house was beautifully decorated with fall flowers. Mrs. M. E. Virgil, president, presided at the business session.

After a lengthy, but interesting session, eleven members enjoyed a very colorful and delectable meal, served by the hostess, Mrs. G. Williamson, reporter.

Rally Climaxes in Blaze Of Glory

The ladies of the Lonoke Baptist Church, under the direction of the pastor's wife, Mrs. Walter White, presented a very colorful pageant, "The March of the States," Sunday night, September 20, at 7:30 p.m., which had a very successful climax financially.

Mrs. White, narrator, called the roll of the fifty states, in the order of their annexation to the Union, and stated the Capitol of each state.

Mrs. E. L. Hicks made presentations to the seven ladies having the highest amount of money; 1st place, Mrs. Laura Jordan, $101.00; 2nd runner-up, Mrs. Mattie Bazzelle, $65.00; 3rd runner-up, Mrs. Savannah Pigum, $56.00; 4th runner-up, Mrs. Carmichael, $50.00; 5th runner-up, Mrs. Effie Blake, $45.00; 6th runner-up, Mrs. Eula Scott, $43.00; 7th runner-up, Mrs. Ola Malone, $2.50. Total amount reported, $1,493.64.

A capacity audience witnessed this colorful affair. The church was decorated in the national colors, red, white, and blue, and the ladies, according to this reporter were beautiful in their red, white, and blue dresses. Misses Robbie Jewel Davis and Nancy Scott played the organ and piano respectively. Congregational singing was conducted by Mrs. N. Carmichael. Mrs. A. S. Walker was Mistress of Ceremony. Rev. Walter White, pastor.

Yerger Host to Area Conference

The Home Economics Department of Yerger High School was host to the Area Conference September 17th. Eighteen Home-making teachers were present along with principal W. V. Ruthford of Yerger High School and E. S. Williams of Little River County Training School, Ashdown.
The purposes of the Conference were:
1. To continue to strengthen the total Home Economics program through the application of management practices.
2. To further challenge the Home Economics teacher in growing professionally.
Miss Frances Rudd, Director, Home Economics Education, from the State Department of Education gave some very interesting points on, "What We as Homemaking teachers can do to carry out the purposes of the Conference."
B. G. Williams, the guest speaker from the State Department of Education, outlined several challenging points on, "The Home Economics teacher carries out Her Professional Responsibilities."
Mrs. Ersalene Harris, Oak Grove High School, Rosston, Ark., gave some very good practical suggestions and information on, "Planning the Home-making Program for the Year."
Miss N. M. Jefferson of McRae High School, Prescott, gave a number of helpful points on, "Wise Planning and management for successful Adult Classes."
At the close of the meeting, "Management in Keeping Records and Reports was thoroughly reviewed by our new Director of Home Economics Education, Miss Frances Rudd, and the guest enjoyed exploring the new Home Economics Department.

President to Pay Visit to Texarkana

TEXARKANA (AP) — President Johnson will dedicate a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy here Friday, the head of the Texarkana Kennedy Foundation said Sunday.

R. P. Cheatham said Johnson would come here after dedication of the Eufaula Dam in eastern Oklahoma.

The Texarkana ceremony is scheduled for 7 p.m. Afterwards Johnson will fly to his Johnson City, Tex., ranch, Cheatham said.

Cheatham said invitations had been sent to the governors of Arkansas, Texas and Louisiana. The Kennedy memorial is a plaque mounted on a granite base rising about four feet above the state line in front of the post office, which is on the Arkansas-Texas state line.

The memorial is on the spot on which Kennedy made a campaign speech on Sept. 13, 1960.

The Texarkana Kennedy Foundation's invitation was presented to the President by Reps. Oren Harris, D-Ark., Wright Patman, D-Tex., Joe Waggoner, D-La., and Carl Albert, D-Okla.

Coming & Going

Mrs. Keabont Abraham and children, Lynn, Verna, and Rudy have returned to their home in Ft. Jay, N. Y. after visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Mary Johnson in Hope, her mother, Mrs. B. J. Shelton and her mother and father-in-law, the Abrahams in Little Rock.

Also visiting Mrs. Shelton and Mrs. Johnson were their daughter and granddaughter Mrs. LaQuita Johnson and daughter Charlotte of San Diego. They too have returned home.

Mr. Joe Lloyd has returned to his home in Chicago, after visiting his nephew Mr. Vander Lloyd and family.

Mrs. Ophelia English Dies

Judgment in Sewer Case Affirmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today an $8,674 judgment awarded the City of Rogers against C. Max Russell in a sewer case.

Russell agreed under an oral contract to pay the city $2 a foot for 4,337 feet of sewer line to be laid by the city in an undeveloped subdivision he owned. Later, however, he contended that the city had misrepresented the facts to him.

This was the second time the Supreme Court had considered this case. In its first opinion, the court held that Benton Circuit Court erred in awarding the city a summary judgment for the amount.

The case went back for jury trial and a jury returned a verdict in favor of the city.

In a Clay County case, the Supreme Court affirmed the chancellor's ruling that Ernestine Mohr and others failed to establish that Fred Folks gave them $16,418 in cash and securities which were in a lock box in a bank at Rector, before he died.

The ruling means that the money will go into the estate of Folks, who did not leave a will.

A Rejected Suitor Admits Killing Girl

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A rejected suitor orally admitted shooting to death a suburban University City girl whose body was found in Kennett, Mo., police said.

Merele Winford, 28, of St. Louis, was arrested Sunday at a relative's house after police received an anonymous tip. He had been wanted for questioning in connection with passing bogus checks.

While being questioned, he interrupted officers and said: "The heck with it. I've got something I want to tell you to get it off my chest."

Officers said he told this story: He and Mrs. Brenda Lee Wyatt, 17, a waitress who was separated from her husband, drove to Forrest Park Saturday night. When she told him she was ending their relationship and started to get out of the car, he shot her in the head with a .22 caliber revolver.

He put her body in the trunk and drove to his grandmother's house in Rector, Ark., more than 200 miles from St. Louis. When he told his grandmother he was in trouble, she ordered him out of the house. He drove to Kennett, parked the car one block from the courthouse, and took a taxi to Hayti and a bus back to St. Louis.

Looking back toward the cattle, conscious of passing time, Frank Ives, fiercely swearing, realized the herd had been stopped.

The crew had seen that dust coming off the Pass road and Ed Flawrence, across the way, had stepped out of the stable to stand peering intently toward where the massed cows showed white and roan against the plain.

Ives was tempted to make his play. While the man was distracted he might cover 20 feet more, before the gun fighters rifle could be put into play.

Then the man's stare came back and it was too late to move, and, looking again at the herd, Ives found the cattle once more in motion tiredly ambulating toward the yard.

But that town bunch was nearer, nearer now than the cattle—close enough for Ives to catch the up-and-down flash of flogging arms as the six hurtling blobs of ponies lunged yardward across the last fold of intervening ground.

Held by the inevitability of it, Ives watched them crossing the last quarter mile, knowing there was little he could do besides die and that he certainly would if he attempted to oppose so brash a crew as this.

In the midst of these unpleasant reflections his eyes, sprung wide, slatched an oblique look stablewards to find Renwick's man stiff with shock.

So it was true. This bunch whacking leather so determinedly to get here was no part of the sheriff's un-hung outfit. Now, peering again at the parboiled blob of that lead rider's face, Ives, grinning sourly, left the shadow of the porch. Ed Flawrence, slung with angry disappointment, might be even more dangerous than he'd been already but Ives, unhurriedly crossing the yard, didn't think the fellow would endanger himself by starting a play that was bound to go against him.

Nor did he. "Standoff, eh?" "But on the other foot this time," Ives remarked as Flawrence put aside his rifle. "I'll take that. And you might well hand me that belt gun, too, unless you're fixing to commit suicide."

Renwick's man, smiling wryly, passed them over. "Spoils of war, Well," he said, standing back. "that's the way the pickle squirts. Next time the shoe will be back where it belongs."

"Wouldn't count on it," Ives grunted. "Be filled with rust time you're—Hello French," he said, coming around as the fat man, getting off his winded mount, moved up with a probing scowl for Ives' companion.

Taken aside, the horse breeder said without lowering his voice: "Looks like the gunnie that dropped Charlie May. . . you ain't heard about that? All right, take Reston. Thrown by a killer horse, they said. And the ink scarcely dried on that filly's marriage papers."

French wrenched his mouth around. "Sure, three of us found him the rocks of Stag Creek, the horse half atop him with a bullet in his head—you think a guy in his shape could take a gun to that brone? Swaller it if you want. Been a heap of things laid to horses in this country, but," he said with another hard look at Flawrence, "I seen the body. The poor man had been worked over with a barrel of a gun."

Ives said, blowing sweat off his nose, "How's Cotten?" "We got him over at my place. Put him in the front bedroom with a stone jug an' the most of my crew to keep the fellywoggles off him. Reckon he'll make it, but that old boy could sure use a doc."

Ives said, throwing open the breech of Flawrence's rifle, "I'm pulling out of here directly. You want to sit on this nest while I take a trip to town?"

"I guess", French said. "Take care of that joker," he called over his shoulder, wheeling clear of French; and the fat man, smiling, rolled into motion, bringing all of his attention to the saturnine Flawrence.

The rider was Candy. She stopped beside Ives.

"What happened? Where's Jupe and the others?"

"He'll be along," Candy said, but her eyes told him different.

"So he came down with a bad case of cold feet, and ran."

"You have to look at his side of it."

"After all," she said defensively, "he's just a boy."

"And you're a girl," Ives pointed out, "but you came on."

And you brought back the cattle. You, a stove-up cook and one hand."

Football Is Big Business in Arkansas

By BILL SIMMONS

Associated Press Writer

The University of Arkansas football games in Little Rock mean an additional $400,000 in business on the game weekend to the Capital city, the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce believes.

Charles Rixse of the chamber's convention bureau says that about 20,000 people—or about half of a sellout crowd at War Memorial Stadium—arrive from outside Little Rock to attend the Razorback games.

"We figure they spend what would average out to about $20 each," Rixse said.

He said the normal convention spends about $30 per person, but many of those who come to Little Rock for the game will not stay overnight, thereby reducing the average expenditure.

This estimation includes hotel, motel and restaurant expenses, department store shopping, and gasoline purchased while in Little Rock.

It does not include the sale of tickets to the game, sometimes as many as 40,000, at prices ranging from $3 to $5. Funds from ticket sales, of course, are split a half-dozen ways. The number of tickets sold varies considerably, depending on how well the Razorbacks are doing, and how imposing is the foe.

It also does not include gasoline, airplane costs and other expenditures connected with transportation to Little Rock.

Willard A. Hawkins of Downtown Little Rock Unlimited, Inc., which promotes the downtown area, said reports from past years indicate sharp, temporary increases in department store sales when the Hogs are in town.

"This varies some depending on the opponent," Hawkins said. "Partly on how good the opponent is, how good Arkansas is, and where the opponent is from."

"The Texas game of last year as a good one from this standpoint," he said. "It had the right distance, so to speak, so that a lot of people had to spend the night. This gives them more time on their hands during shopping hours."

Arkansas plays at Little Rock three times this season. The

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Co. wound up the launching ceremonies of its fall schedule with five new shows and the National Broadcasting Co. put three into the channels over a busy television weekend.

The score for happy debuts was pretty high. Six new shows looked good and only two were really disappointing.

Taking the premieres chronologically, the weekend produced the following:

"Jonny Quest" on ABC Friday night, was an adventure series that looked like a realistically drawn animated cartoon strip. It is designed to identify with young viewers.

The hero is a young boy with a scientist father, a fulltime bodyguard and a bulldog named Bandit. The opening adventure had Jonny, his dog and his bodyguard having a horrendous time with evil lizard-men who inhabit the Sargasso Sea and get mixed up with deadly laser beams and ride in super speed-boats. The kids will adore it.

This was followed by "The Addams Family" from the amusing magazine cartoons by Charles Addams about a macabre family—mother raises poison plants and daddy's hobby is arranging toy train wrecks. Despite the faithful physical translation of the characters, the script was too broad and self-conscious. Where Addams merely suggested ghoulish mischief, the television series lays it on with a trowel.

"Valentine's Day," the next offering, tried to mix dry martini with custard pie slapstick and it made an unhappy menu. It is another of those series about an irresistible playboy and, alas, no better than its predecessors.

Tony Franciosa valiantly waded into familiar plot about the bachelor trying to prove something by taking over a housewife's chores for a weekend. I didn't prove much about a homemaker's lot but it did demonstrate that this story has been wrong pretty dry now.

"12 o'clock High," the last of ABC's Friday night quartet of new programs, is a slick, exciting and well-produced series about an England-based bomber group during World War II—and it wasn't a funny war.

There were some fine air shots and a sensible plot involving a conflict of personalities. Robert Lansing plays effectively a tense, tough Air Force general. Paul Burke, guest star of the opening show, was equally taut. One waited from the outset for the anticipated explosion.

NBC launched three half-hour shows in a row Saturday night, and every one looks like a winner.

"Flipper" with a delightful dolphin for its star, has the same sea-going appeal of "Sea Hunt," plus the warmth and charm of the relationship between a young boy and his unusual pet. This one will attract the whole family.

"The Famous Adventures of Mr. Magoo" started off with the little cartoon character playing William Tell. It told a straight story built around the legend. In coming months, Mr. Magoo ought to do a lot to stimulate children's interest in the classics by playing everything from Cyrano to Long John Silver.

Then there was "Kentucky Jones" with Dennis Weaver—without his famous "Chester" limp but with, of all things, a hangover—grieving over the loss of his wife and resisting being adopted by a Chinese wait.

Rickey Der, playing an appealing little Oriental, is a cinch to steal the show. It is a comedy in a contemporary scene and the kind that tries for—and gets—an occasional tear.

Saturday night, too, there was ABC's "Broadside," the new sister of "McHale's Navy" and showing a strong family resemblance. There is even a choleric commanding officer to foil each week. This new show imagines some adventures for a group of pretty Waves assigned to a wartime Pacific base. This is the funny war. Those who enjoy the robust, obvious humor of big brother will like this one too.

Recommended tonight: "Many Happy Returns," premiere, CBS, 9:30-10. EDT—comedy series starring John Giver as head of a complaint department in a store; "Slatery's People," premier, CBS, 10-11—dramatic series about a young state legislator starring Richard Crenna.

merchants are enthusiastic Razorback boosters.

Hawkins said a downtown area promotion which offered pairs of free tickets and $25 cash to Razorback games in Little Rock this year drew 18,000 registrations for the Oklahoma State Game, the season opener, Saturday night.

"We expect something like 65,000 or 75,000 registrations for the Baylor game," Hawkins said.

The Rambler Ambassador is the longest and most luxurious of three distinctively different lines of American Motors car for 1965. Overall length has been increased 10 inches, and a convertible has been added to the Ambassador line for the first time. Ambassador styling is all-new with a bold horizontal grille separated by vertical dividing strips, dual vertical headlights and full-height vertical tail lights. Shown is the Ambassador 190 four-door sedan. A wide choice of engines includes a high-performance Torque Command six at 155-horsepower as standard on the Ambassador and two optional V-8s at 198 and 270-horsepower.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "When you get to be 30, you begin to realize that you only live once. Then you must start to make the most of your life."

Leslie Caron was back in Hollywood where she had first met fame at 18 as Gene Kelly's dancing partner in the Oscar-winning "An American in Paris." Always a thoughtful girl, she is more reflective at 33, more conscious of the direction she wants her career to follow.

The career is going fine. Once counted out as a star in Hollywood, she has returned to co-star in films with Cary Grant and Rock Hudson. That's as high-powered company as any actress could wish.

She was seated in her dressing-room trailer on the set of "The Favor" and doing a scene with Hudson. The actor was not present. He was a hundred feet away in a hotel-room set, talking to her on the telephone. Usually telephone scenes are played with dead phones, but Leslie supplied the dialogue on the other end as an assist to Rock.

Between calls she spoke of her new post-30 life.

"It all started with 'The L-Shaped Room,'" said Leslie, who received an academy nomination and critical acclaim for playing the unwed mother in the British film. "It is amazing how much difference one film can make."

"Now producers think I can do anything. I have been offered a movie in which I would play three different roles of women in India. Another would cast me as the mother of Utrillo—at a time when the artist was 21 years old."

She has indeed progressed

Work Starts on Batesville Plant

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

Work started Monday on the new plant of the Batesville Manufacturing Co. which is expected to be in operation next spring.

The plant will make light metal hardware for military programs, according to William J. Arnold of Batesville, company from the shy gamine who used to take ballet lessons in the basement of the garden court apartments on Hollywood Boulevard. She enjoyed these MGM days, especially the making of films like "Lili" and "Gigi." But she was not unhappy to give up ballet.

"One day I gave away 40 pairs of dancing slippers," she recalled. "I have had to buy two or three since then, but I never have returned to performing ballet."

Johnson Uses Advantage of Officeholder

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, back from his first tour of the campaign season, has demonstrated anew that the man in office usually has a built-in advantage over the man who wants his job.

Twice in two days, Johnson dipped into the Pentagon's trove of military secrets for revelations which got great public attention.

Although Johnson at no point directly tied his disclosures to his campaign against Republican rival Barry Goldwater, many seemed to see Goldwater as his target.

In Sacramento, Calif., Thursday Johnson made two major military disclosures, both involving the development of new defense systems which military experts said could properly be lumped in the strategic category.

The President did not say so, but it seemed evident that his revelations were a blunt response to Goldwater's claim that the Democratic administration has failed to come up with any new strategic weapons.

These were the secrets, unwrapped by the President:

1. The United States has a new radar that "will literally look around the curve of the earth, alerting us to aircraft and especially missiles, within seconds after they are launched." Previously, there had been a 15-minute warning gap.

2. "We now have developed and tested two systems with the ability to intercept and destroy armed satellites circling the earth in space. I can tell you today that these systems are in place, they are operationally ready, and they are on alert."

The systems are land-based.

On Wednesday, in Seattle,

Johnson heralded another military development designed to make certain that "neither a madman nor a malfunction could trigger nuclear war."

Johnson announced that several nuclear weapons now are equipped with "permissive action locks" which he described as electromechanical units "which must be opened by secret combination before action is possible."

At Sacramento, Johnson got a roaring welcome from some 40,

000 persons gathered on the state Capitol grounds.

He told the crowd in his speech from the Capitol steps that this is a united nation in an election year.

Johnson said "our only purpose still is peace," but should another nation employ armed satellites in space, the United States will be prepared and ready to meet them.

He said he wanted his voice heard around the world.

The President visited the Aerojet-General Corp. plant near Sacramento and watched the successful static test firing of a Titan 3 missile engine.
